

	 He Akoraka Knowledge and Understanding	 He Whanoka Pono Effort and Attitude	 He Hapori Self-management and Collaboration
	Performance, knowledge and skill development	Behaviours and values that enhance learning	Active, engaged, collaborative and respectful learners
1 Working Towards	 This student is working towards the expected level. They have not yet demonstrated sufficient skills within and knowledge of the content that we are learning.	 This student does not always meet the behaviour expectations of a College student but knows what needs to be worked on and has immediate strategies in place to improve.	 This student is not always prepared for class nor ready to learn or has not submitted learning tasks; but knows what needs to be worked on. Immediate strategies are in place to improve.
2 Achieving	 This student is performing at an expected level. They have demonstrated the required skills within and knowledge of the content that we are learning.	 This student behaves as is expected of a John McGlashan College Student. They are aware of what they need to do to improve.	 This student is mostly prepared for each lesson. They have mostly met all deadlines. They are developing learner agency and function well with other students. They are aware of what they need to do to improve.
3 Surpassing	 This student is performing at a higher than average level; they have demonstrated proficiency in both skills within and knowledge of the content that we are learning.	 This student is valuing the class environment and takes every opportunity to make the most of their learning.	 This student is prepared for each lesson and shows readiness to learn. Work has been submitted in a timely manner. They are agentic learners and contribute in groups and classroom activities.
4 Exemplary	 This student is performing at a high level; they have demonstrated advanced skills within and knowledge of the content that we are learning.	 This student goes above and beyond with their effort in class and their willingness to make the most of the College environment.	 This student is well prepared for each lesson, is ready to learn and completes tasks on time. They are self-directed, agentic learners and add value to other students that they work with.